

FROM THE WATER SLIDE

Strolling around Kā'anapali, if you didn't know better, you'd think the place was a water park. Swimming-pool culture predominates. Part of the fun of these liquid playgrounds is the surprise of what you discover by exploring a cave or plunging through a cascading waterfall. A hidden Jacuzzi or a treasure ship would be a likely find.

FROM A CHILD'S EYE

Obviously, for many of the reasons given above, Kā'anapali is a great place for kids. But Kā'anapali also gives the 12-and-under set its own special attention. Many of our resort partners offer "keiki" (children's) programs. These include lessons in Hawaiian crafts and art, outings, and play activities with a number of "camps" or "clubs."

IN A CURIOUS MIND

Kā'anapali is Hawai'i, and coming here is a cultural experience. We encourage our guests to discover one of the most refined traditions ever developed in Polynesia and (we think) the world. Throughout the resort you'll find a daily schedule of activities that get people involved in the culture of aloha. This means not only hula shows and musical performances, but also classes in Hawaiian arts such as lauhala-weaving, quilting, and lei-making. Kā'anapali also keeps alive the most festive of all Hawaiian traditions, the lū'au. These Polynesian parties teach island culture through direct experience, a feast of unfamiliar foods and a high-spirited dance show.

INSIDE THE SPA

If physical rejuvenation is called for, or fitness training, Kā'anapali offers every opportunity. A visit here can be used as the ultimate health retreat.

Resort Guide

*Play hard, or take it easy.
Give yourself some pampering,
or take yourself on an adventure. Kā'anapali has everything you want and more.*

ON THE GREENS

From the seat of a golf cart, Kā'anapali is essentially 36 holes of championship golf with some good-looking buildings in the distance.

FACING A SERVE

Kā'anapali also happens to be one of the finest tennis destinations in the world. The Royal Lahaina Resort's Tennis Ranch maintains ten courts and a 3,500-seat stadium court. Three of our other resort partners also have pro shops and a total of 22 additional courts.

INTO THE SEA

From a beach point of view, Kā'anapali is simply a backdrop to one of the world's greatest places to play in the ocean. Just about anything that people have invented to do either in or on the water starts right here: snorkel, windsurf, scuba, kayak, jet ski, parasail, or sail on a deluxe catamaran for a picnic-snorkeling trip, sunset sail, and (in season) whale-watching excursions.

Kaanapali Golf Courses

The scenic 36-hole Kaanapali Golf Courses meander throughout Kā'anapali Beach Resort. Guests staying within the resort receive preferential rates and tee times. Free transportation within the resort. Driving range and golf lessons available.
